STATEMENT:

I was sitting in my truck taking a break when they were unloading the trailer. I was looking at my phone and had the door open. I know they had already unloaded a idetal material because I saw it stacked near the area. I heard someone say "Curtis your clear, Go."

I heard the lift rev a little and then I heard a crash. I looked at the area and moved in a better line of sight and saw him under the material. He was blue looking so I called 911. Everyone was clear, Curtis had a good view of the work area. I didn't see anything that appeared to be unsafe. They were communicating and the area was clear of people. I am not sure while he would tell him he was "clear" when he wasn't clear.
